

Case Study – Patient Advocate Stories

Claire Wiseman

Patient advocate, use MY data

In regards to the use of data in research, there are so many elements of data that we can use, that we perhaps aren't using as well as we could.

I think it's an incredibly important opportunity that we're going to miss if we don't use data to its best effect, use it more than we are using it at the moment. If we don't, then we are missing the best opportunity we've had in this generation and the next to make a difference.

Let's face it, what we're doing at the moment isn't working as well as it could do, and in my opinion we need to make radical changes.

I feel quite strongly about the use of cancer data being used correctly. It's my belief that it should be a statutory requirement and part of a social contract. We need to make a difference, and do something different!

We are building an online library, where the patient voice is heard direct, talking about the rewards of using their data

<http://www.usemydata.org/stories5.shtml>
getinvolved@usemydata.org.uk

“The only source of data is the patient.”